We can use their cost calculator on the member jungle website to generate an idea of setup and ongoing costs

This needs to be compared with the spreadsheet I prepared last Nov where I listed the anticipated costs of maintaining the website in its existing format. This document doesnt factor in payment to a website manager so I would suggest a minimum charge for that service would be $100 per month

OPTION 2 EMPLOY A CONTRACTOR TO MANAGE OUR WORDPRESS SITE

To continue the current operations will require a website manager to make decisions and deploy software for maintaining the functionality and security of the Friends members

I havent reached out to any local contractors for this role but if people had time that well may be worth exploration – however this can be very time consuming and not necessarily fruitful
