

Threatened Species Protection

Description

Threatened Species Protection

Trust for Nature has received funding through the Victorian Government's Threatened Species Protection Initiative to assist private landholders to improve threatened species habitat in the Chiltern-Mt Pilot area.

Trust for Nature is encouraging landholders in the project area to enter voluntary agreements to improve Hooded Robin and Squirrel Glider habitat and connectivity. As part of the project, Trust for Nature will carry out property assessments and provide landholders with laminated A1 (poster sized) maps of their properties.

Trust for Nature will also arrange for the removal of top line barb wire and replacement with plain wire in areas with known or potential Squirrel Glider habitat on private land protected under a conservation covenant or a voluntary management agreement.
